Battleford an Educational Centre

FEW towns in America are so ideally situated from a hygienic standpoint, and certainly none between the Great Lakes and the Rocky Mountains can compare with Battleford in point of beauty. This is a very important factor in making Battleford a future educational centre.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL—Under Construction

THERE are already established in Battleford two Public Schools, a High School where first-class teachers' certificates can be secured, and an Industrial School for the education of Indian children: A Business College was established here this year, and building operations started on an Academy for the higher education of young women.
